

Eastern West Virginia Community and Technical College

2021 COMMENCEMENT

Saturday, May 8, 2021 10:00 AM | Moorefield Middle School, Moorefield, WV

Greetings from the President

A New Journey

Congratulations to all of Eastern's graduates. Webster defines commencement as a beginning or start.

Today, we are both beginning a new journey. You will start a new chapter in your life as a college graduate and I will discover new opportunities when I retire from Eastern in June.

I would like to share a quote that inspires me: "Life is a journey and not a destination." I encourage all of you to explore new opportunities that will challenge and inspire you to be your best.

Zach from Live A Great Story shares "we're all on our own journey. No matter where we came from, what language we speak, the color of our skin or anything that seemingly makes us different, in the end, we are all just humans living our own story. And it's up to each of us to be the hero of our story, which inspires other people to do the same."

Today, you are our heroes! We are proud of you!

Now, go forth and continue to Live A Great Story!

Harold K. Michael Founders Award

The Harold K. Michael Founders Award has been established in honor of the individual whose vision led to the creation of Eastern West Virginia Community and Technical College. Delegate Harold K. Michael, Chairman of the House Finance Committee, was studying a map of the colleges in West Virginia and saw a “gap in educational opportunities in this part of the state.” As a result, Eastern was established by the enactment of House Bill 3019 on March 21, 1999.

The first award was presented to the Honorable Harold K. Michael in 2003.

This award is presented annually to an individual who has demonstrated outstanding contributions to the College.

APEX Award

The Active Partners in Educational Excellence (APEX) Award was created in 2003 to honor organizations engaged with the College in extraordinary service to the citizens, employers, and communities of the Potomac Highlands of West Virginia. Various individuals and communities have benefited from these collaborative enterprises, and it is these shared goals which help to strengthen the respective missions of the College and its colleagues. The APEX Award is not a purchase of services or a business arrangement; it is a joint venture in service to recognize the outstanding people, businesses, and diverse communities of the surrounding region.

This year, the award is presented to a recipient whose hard work and dedication has resulted in a significant milestone for the district.
